This band of Caracas perpetuates the tiny but tenacious tradition of anarcopunk in Venezuela. Their fast but intense music, the female main voice, the emotional side make this band sounding pretty unique. If the southamerican touch is evident, one may also think about chicano bands like Reaccion or Condenada, holding the resistance of immigrants to the very heart of the Empire! Les Nains Aussi ve

COUNTER-ATTACK "Live" CASS__ 3,00 Counter-Attack was an anarcho-punk band from Belgium that was formed in the mid-'90s and existed through 2004, releasing two LPs, "Laments And Skulls" and "Master And Jester." Musically, they are a perfect blend between Crass and Conflict with interesting and catchy songs. Aside from their music, what set Counter-Attack apart from their '90s contemporaries was their ability to take political issues and attack them from unique and interesting angles in a way that i can only compare to Crass. As an example, the song "Zebra" looks at the prison industrial complex from a perspective that questions correctional institutions and their ability to improve a prisoner's behavior, while never excusing the behaviors of those in prison. They combat both the apathetic punk attitude as well as the political punk movement itself in a critical and engaging way without ever coming off as preachy or condescending. This tape features two live sets including one from the Franse Vaart in Ghent, Belgium in 2000 and another from Glasgow, Scotland in 2003. The band broke up in 2004 after having recorded a 7" for Tribal War Records that was never released. Obsolete Format be

Decent sound quality while still retaining the raw energy and chaos that you would expect from a Disorder show. This tape has all the hits from the early records including "You Gotta Be Someone," "Rampton Song," "More Than Fights," "Complete Disorder," "Daily Life," etc. plus the live in Bristol gig has the first time they ever played "Education" live on it. A great release. Obsolete Format uk

Super catchy, with some of the best vocals since their aforementioned countrymates, EYE FOR AN EYE blaze through 16 songs, and even though they are pummeling when they do slow down, they don't seem to want to waste their time; there are songs filled with rocking hooks and sing along choruses to get to, and every song is full of both. This might be a little bit slick for some, and easily see EFAE appealing to a larger crowd, possibly made up of the kind of meatheads I do not want to hang out with, but good music is good music, and Anna's vocals quickly erase any doubts I might have had." H.D.Q. CASS__ 3,00 H.D.Q., which stood for stood for Hung, Drawn and Quatered, formed in 1984 in England. Influenced by bands like GBH and Discharge, their first appearance on vinyl was a track from their demo ("Take Control") on the "Relying On Us" 7" compilation put out by Endangered Music in 1985. H.D.Q. went back into the studio in 1985 and recorded eight songs for a self titled 12" on Endangered Music. After releasing the 12", the band would go on to support The Varukers, Peter & the Test Tube Babies, Amebix, and Disorder before temporarily breaking up due to musical differences. H.D.Q. would reform within a year with a different line up and a more American sound influenced by bands like the Descendents, Dag Nasty and others. Dickie Hammond and Lainey would eventually go on to join Leatherface among others. Obsolete Format uk original doom/sludgecore here from this Berlin outfit. These guys (and girl) definitely carve their own bloody niche in this over-saturated genre, which has something to do with the occasionally off kilter rhythms a la DAMAD or KYLESA, but probably most to do with Ajka's insane, accented vocals, making them sound like (to egregiously confuse cultures for a second) a female-Dracula-fronted EYEHATEGOD. Definitely recommended for fans of GRIEF, GRAVES AT SEA, and the aforementioned bands. Awesome cover art too.

From their site: "The success at the festival made it possible to record four songs for the radio, which were later released on their first MC "Nigdy!" (Never!). The album soon gained "cult" status and showed that Moskwa successfully mixed aggressive and "gutsy" sound - inspired by bands like GBH (for whom they played support some years later) or Discharge - with their nihilistic, rooted in the reality of communist Poland lyrics."
